

Around the world in eighty days

Before watching

1-Discussion:

Discuss in pairs: What cities would you visit if you had 80 days to travel? Where would you go? Why?

While watching

2- The characters travel to different places. Which are they? In pairs write a short description and include what happens on each of them

3- Order the following conversation.

___ Thank you. Uh... Sorry.
What was your name? Ahem.

___ To maximize my inventing capacity,

___ Passepartout.

___ Thus enabling me to do
the most I can for mankind.

___ Uh, Mr. Fogg, you are a noble, precise gentleman.

___ I must live my life
with total efficiency...

___ Passport. Too.

4- Who said these? Include the moment and reason why they say them.

“Today is the day I will finally achieve what has been deemed impossible.”

“We're looking for a bank robber.”

“I come from a long line of French valets.”

“There he is. There's my valet.
I can't wait to present my results to the Academy.”

After watching

Movie guide: Around the world in eighty days

3- Read the film review and underline the differences that you find between the movie and the book.

In 1872, eccentric British inventor Phileas Fogg (Steve Coogan) has come up with any number of gadgets to help people travel with greater speed and ease, and is working on plans for a flying machine. In a lively discussion with Lord Kelvin (Jim Broadbent), the head of the Royal Academy of Science, Fogg states his belief that it's possible for someone to travel around the globe in a mere 80 days. Kelvin, who makes no secret of his belief that Fogg is a crackpot, challenges him to do just that, and adds a wager to the bargain to make things interesting,: if Fogg can't circumnavigate the globe in 80 days, he'll give up inventing forever. Fogg takes the challenge, and teams up with his manservant, a former acrobat named Passepartout (Jackie Chan), and lovely navigator Monique (Cécile De France) to make the epic voyage -- traveling by train, boat, balloon, horseback, or any other means at their disposal. However, Fogg and his companions are dogged along the way by the false accusation that the inventor took part in a bank robbery, forcing him to not only complete the journey but clear his name as well.

4- Now make your own review about the movie! Go to:

<http://www.yourmoviereviews.com/node/add/moviereview>

5- Let's see how well you help passpartout escape from paris!. Go to:

http://disney.go.com/disneyvideos/liveaction/80days/activities/week\_2/index.html